District Zoning Notes

- 1. The building is located what zoning district?
- 2. According to the Romeo Code of Ordinances, what is the statement of purpose for this district?
- 3. Review the permitted uses for this district. What building type did you select? Is it allowed in this area?
- 4. If your building type is not allowed according to the listed permitted uses for this district, how could you change your design? Or if you want to apply for a variance, how would you "sell" your proposed design to the variance zoning board?
- 5. According to the Area, height and placement requirements section, what is the maximum building height restrictions?
- 6. What are the front, side and rear, site set-back restrictions?
- 7. What is the maximum percentage your building can cover of the site?
- 8. What is required in regards to landscaping?
- 9. What does the building design standards tell you?
- 10. What does the code say in regards to outside storage and sales?
- 11. Parking is a large concern in downtown Romeo. Review the Romeo parking ordinance, on and off site. How many spaces would be required for your building type?
- 12. List one other item you learned when reviewing the zone ordinances.