College Information Session

EXPLORING POST RETURNS!

Autumn is in the air, and so is Exploring Post! SmithGroup will be moving to a hybrid model for Exploring Post for the 2021 – 2022 year, and will kick things off with a College Information Session.

Students are going to be given the option to call into the introduction workshop as with last year, or they now have the option to experience the content in person in the newly-renovated SmithGroup Detroit office.

On Tuesday, October 19th, SmithGroup will be joined by representatives from a few colleges and universities with architectural and engineering programs as they share more about their programs, the undergraduate experience at their institutions, studying abroad, admissions, and more. Following this, students will have the opportunity to break out into smaller groups to ask questions directly to the representatives either in person or while on the call.

More details will be shared soon about our upcoming Introduction to Architecture and Introduction to Engineering sessions, so please stay tuned!

If you are interested in attending this college information workshop, please reach out via email to Bryan Seef at bryan.seef@smithgroup.com or Shannon Stearns at shannon.stearns@smithgroup.com to register before October 15, 2021.
